Residential/Commercial Greenhouses

Spring is coming and it is time to start thinking about your backyard and gardening projects. Make the tasks simpler by starting in a Henry Building Systems Greenhouse!

Small enough for the beginner or hobby grower, but large enough for the more experienced as well.

The HBS Greenhouse was made for extreme climates and will withstand all types of weather and winds.

Several sizes of the greenhouse are available and they are sold as kits for the DIY handyman and are simple to erect.

Several add-ons are available such as fan systems, shelving units, and panel colors.
